from rolls

Oregon Medical Association has suspended 11 doctors for failure to meet continuing education require-

Jim Kronenberg, secretary for OMA's Council on Medical Education, said OMA would not name the 11 suspended or six others who resigned from association membership rather than to practice medicine or serve on the staff of any Oregon hospital. Hospitals, Kronenberg said, require only membership in a county medical available, however.

Requirements vary

Educational requirements vary, Kronenberg said, de-pending on the specialty. The general requirement is 50 hours per year, with em-phasis on formal course work. OMA will also credit time spent on research papers or articles for publica-

Kronenberg said "about half" of the 17 who have left

OMA over the education requirements, did so on philo-sophical grounds. "They felt it was tyranny. They feel it

(the requirements) should be voluntary, since the associa-

Some doctors may be hampered in their membership in specialty societies, Kronen-berg said, because without standing in OMA, doctors cannot belong to the Ameri-can Medical Association and tion is voluntary."

tion in scientific journals.

ments adopted in 1967.

Home displacement hard-core puzzle in I-505 location

Displacement of low income residents will be the most important environmental impact of constructing Interstate 505 through Northwest Portland.

Gary Potter, State Highway Department ecologist, reported the displacement as the division released its draft environmental impact

Chief reports crime surge in Beaverton

By JAMES MAGMER

BEAVERTON—The number of major crimes committed in this community more than doubled during 1971, Police Chief Don Newell told a Chamber of Commerce luncheon Friday.

During 1970 there were 187 major crimes committed. The number rose to 369 dur-

Last year, Newell said, beries, 21 aggravated as-saults, 1 murder, 155 burglaies, 147 acts of larceny inolving more than the theft." I $50, and 36 auto thefts.

Newell said arrests and uspects indicated the py transients just passing through Beaverton from Calforma, Southern Oregon and Washington. They're just knocking the helf out of us," e said.

Commenting on the criti-cism of the way his officers handled arrested suspects, Newell said. "We always iandcuff suspects when we bring them in. These are my

Every time you pick up a paper, a police officer's been killed. And it's moving in on is here in Beaverton. The police chief in Vernonia was shot. A State Police officer was killed in Southern Ore-

"Tm not going to have one of my men killed if I can help it," Newell said. "We had a close call the other night in arresting a narcotic suspect. He drew a gun on the arresting officer, but other officers moved in just in

As for the new Oregon criminal code, Newell said, "Some of the laws are good, but some are bad. Bad bad. It's too early to comment on the code. We need more

Sale of drug nets 5 years

Donald Van Valkenberg, 21, of Vancouver, Wash., has been sentenced to five years in prison for illegal sale of a dangerous drug. He earlier pleaded guilty to the charge.

He was accused with a co-defendant of selling 4,000 tablets of LSD to Multnomah County vice officers Oct. 15. Multnomah County Circuit Judge Robert E. Jones, who sentenced Van Valkenberg, said the co-defendant, We ley McConnell, Dickinson, 22. arranged the sale. Dickinson earlier was sentenced to 10 years in prison for illegal sale of a dangerous drug.

Woman dies the low-income worker a in 4-car crash

CAMAS - A four-car collision on State Route 14 west of here claimed the life of a 54 year-old White Salmon woman Friday night.

Washington state patrol-men said the accident began when a vehicle driven by Thomas M. Wall, 19, of White Salmon, blew a front tire and went out of control. Wall's mother, Sarah G., a passenger, was thrown from the car and was killed. Other vehicles involved in the accident were driven by Earl J. Beatty, 46, of Vancouver, Timmy Jones, 24, of Camas, and Kermit V. Dover, 46, of Brush Prairie.

Wall received minor injuries. His father, Maville F., a second passenger, received non-critical head injuries. Occupants of the other cars were unhurt.

New bouy tender due

ASTORIA (AP) - A Coast Guard crew from Astoria goes to Galveston, Tex., this at Grays Harbor, Wash., Sept. 79.

statement for I-505 to the public Friday. U.S. District Judge Alfred

T. Goodwin ordered highway officials Dec. 3 to prepare an impact statement and schedule design hearings on the controversial freeway corri-

Willamette Heights Neighborhood Association and Northwest District Association, which sought the court order, oppose the proposed NW Upshur Street corridor route that the highway de-partment has favored. They question social costs, noise, fumes, traffic and visual im-

Although the draft statement Potter wrote does not rate importance of various impacts, he said he believes displacement of both young and old residents with low incomes would be most vital.

Alternatives offered The statement offers alternatives to the NW Upshur Street corridor: Construct the freeway along NW Yeon, Industrial or Nicolai street corridor, connect I-405 (Stadium Freeway) to a nonfreeway city street system, or do nothing

Fred Klaboe, assistant state highway engineer, said the Yeon route would disrupt the fewest residents but the most industries.

If I-505 project were to be abandoned, intolerable traffic congestion would damage economic viability of the district, he said.

Klaboe estimated cost of each freeway alternative as: $95 million for a three mile NW Yeon Street route; $38 million for a 1.83 mile NW Industrial Street route, $29 million for a 1.14 mile NW Nicholai Street route, and 27 million for the 1.44 mile NW Upshur Street route.

The statement indicates an elevated NW Yeon Street freeway would remove 21 dwelling units (15 single, 6 multifamily) and 33 medium to heavy industrial facilities. and result in modified or impared access to another 31 industrial plants.

Expansion unwanted

"Adoption of this corridor would allow continued industrial expansion into residential districts ____ a secondary impact that can be considered adverse to the Northwest district," the statement

A NW Industrial Street Gleason's freeway would remove 62 dwelling units (36 single, 25 multifamily) and 33 industries, and impair or modify or impaired access to 15 in-

A NW Nicolai Street freewould eliminate 56 dwelling units (31 single, 25 multifamily) and 32 industires, and impair or modify access to 12 industries

The NW Upshur Street route would remove 72 businesses, 95 single dwelling milts and 320 multifamily FBI arrests pair units.

Although that route after 3 shots fired need by buffering the residential from the industrial zone, it will result in the disruption of the life styles of over 800 persons presently located in the freeway corridor area," according to the statement

To these people the Northwest neighborhood has a high utility — low rents, proximity to work and shopping areas and convenient public transportation. The area is a suitable locale for the low-income worker and

No highhanded evictions

Relocation of nonproperty owners along any route "will be carefully executed to aiford the displacee the time and opportunity to secure' low rents and other advantages of Northwest district living, the statement contin-

"No family or individual will be required to vacate any dwelling until such dis-placee has found or been offered adequate housing.

Greatest impact from free-way noise along the NW Upshur Street corridor would be in the area bounded by NW 30th and 33rd avenues, NW Vaughn Street and Highway 30, the highway department reported.

With less than a 5-decibel increase in Willamette Heights, there would be no noise impact there, the department said. Ambient noise levels at Chapman School and Wallace Park would show no discernible increase, the statement said.

Federal air quality stand-ards may be violated on any of the possible routes, the department noted. If excessive violations occur, the state-ment recommends controlling vehicles using the freeby metering ramps to limit access, or banishment of vehicles in a problem area at designated times.

PRETTY MANHOLE COVER Russell Ziolkowski, Springfield, isn't working at his job cleaning the city's sewers, he's busy putting the stuff he's found into a mosaic on the covers. This mosaic is of 4,200 items he found.

by legal view

Commissioner Donald E. Clark, acting board chair-man, cannot operate as Multnomah County's execu-tive officer unless ailing Board Chairman M. James Gleason is declared incapaci taned by a panel of doctors. Dist. Atty. Desmond Connall said Friday. Gleason suffered a mild heart attack last week and Friday was reported resting comfortably at Bess Kaiser. Hospital, where he is expected to remain about 10 days. Connall rendered his legal opinion at the request of the county commissioners who were concerned about board operations if Gleason be-the county's chief adminis-"The Home Rule Charter appeared ambigious on that explained Commissioner Ben Padrow, "so we referred it to Connall.

came unable to function as "We wondered whether routine county contracts would be legally binding if signed by Clark in Gleason's absence," he continued.

Signing expected.

Connail said as long as, Gleason could read and inderstand the contracts and was not incapacitated he would have to sign the con-

In the event of a serious illness, Clark would assume Gleason's administrative powers, but his actions would have to be approved by a unanimous vote of the remaining three board mem-

Should a board chairman die, the charter provides the other commissioners would name a new chairman, either from their own ranks or outside.

murder, appeared before

U.S. Magistrate George E.

Juba Friday. They were arrested by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents Thurs-day night in the Portland

Hilton Hotel after three shots

Lawrence Edward Barrows, 23, and Arden Steve Deluca, 19, both of Roseburg,

There were no injuries although damage was done to an 11th-floor room of the ho-Barrows was charged in a complaint from the U.S. Attorney's office in San Francisco with murder on a federal reservation. He was accused of the Jan. 2 murder of Joseph Milton Hugo Seitz, 58,

at the Presidio Army Base

Deluca was accused of harboring a federal fugitive and being an accessory after the fact. Deluca was held on $100,000 bail and Barrows without bail. Both will appear in a federal court hear-

In their appearance Friday, both were appointed court attorneys after stating they did not have sufficient agent in charge of the Port-land FBI office, said his men received information that

Barrows and Deluca were

After the men were in the

Of the shots fired, one struck the bed, another went into the woodwork and the third shot put a hole in the

The information which led to the arrest in Portland came from two young men in Roseburg, according to room, FBI agents crashed staying in the hotel.

into their room.

Mattson, special near San Francisco.

were taken into custody were fired by FBI agents.

County board County embroiled duty clarified in legalities disput inlegalities dispute

A growing dispute over legal advice prompted a 21/4-hour private meeting Thurs-day between four Multnomah County commissioners and Dist. Aity Desmond Countall. The meeting occurred af-ter Countall objected to board aide Easton Cross being as-signed to deal with Portland attorney Howard A. Rankin on two proposed county tax ordinances.

Gross' assignment followed a legal opinion from Rankin sought by Connall at the direction of the board — that the county had Home Rule additionty to impose tax measures by ordinance rath. er than election.

Cross was ordered to have Rankin check a proposed public utility tax for legal form: Connall objected after concluding his office was being bypassed.

The meeting illustrated the

The meeting illustrated the increasingly strained relations between the board and its chief legal adviser, Willis West, chief civil deputy district attorney.

measures were of questionable legality because of ambiguities in the Home Rule Charter

The Rankin opinion sought by the board was the second commissioners bypassed the district attorney's staff for legal advice on tax matters.

Last year, commissioners asked Eugene lawyer Orval H. Etter, who was legal tel in which Barrows and De-

According to the Roseburg men, Darrows showed them credit cards which had belonged to the murder victim, and the two spent considera-ble time practicing the vic-

A forged credit card signature was used to get bus fare to Portland and also appar-

42 state airports is suffering severely from lack of funds

Robert Dunn, director of the State Board of Aeronautics said Friday at a meeting of the board in Portland.

While the state board gets no tax funds, it has been hurt by a slump in collection of fuel taxes from the airlines and general aviation,

Some $415,500 of the $635,- 621 in the present fiscal year budget was estimated to come from fuel taxes. But actual tax collections fell $8,000 short of estimates in December, $12,000 short for The reduction in funds has forced the state to limit maintenance on its 42 airports to the bare minimum.

One member of the staff described it as "token mainte-

The board Friday was forced to turn down an offer by Hood River county to turn

Board members agreed

"this is a mainline airport stripts."

its airport over to the state.

Dunn reported.

the year.

lucca had lived.

tim's signature

ently to get lodging.

Two men, one accused of Roseburg police. The two nurder, appeared before worked at the Roseburg ho-counsel to the Home Rule Charter Commission, whether the county had legal authority to impose a hotel-motel tax or other revenue measures by ordinance instead of asking for a vote of the people.

Etter, as did Rankin, concluded the county did have such taxing authority.

The Etter opinion made some commissioners wonder whether West could defend the county if the tax measures were enacted and then challenged in court.

Additionally, some commissioners have expressed displeasure with West's advice on other matters and last year the board discussed the possibility of serving its relationship with the DA's office and hiring a private law firm to represent the

No action was taken on the matter, but it remains an alternative under consideration by some commissioners. Commissioners said ano increte decision was made trict attorney.

Since board members began considering a utility and business license tax in middle of the commissioness. The property of the constant of the commissioness of the commissioness. The constant of the commissioness of the commi in Thursday's meeting about However, Connail said he told Commissioners Donald E. Clark, Ben Padrow, Larry Aylsworth and Mel Gordon Thursday that he intended to retain West for at least an-

What comes next is uncer-

West enjoys the confidence of Board Chairman M. James Gleason and in any event could not be fired by the county since he is a state employe appointed by Con-

Green to emcee Jackson dinner master of ceremonies at a $25 a plate dinner honoring 1972 presidential candidate Sen. Henry M. Jackson Jan.

Rep. Thomas Foley, D. Wash, will speak at the din-ner which is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. at the Boilermakers Building, 3653 SE 34th Aye., Portland.

Co-sponsors of the affair are the Willamette Democratic Society and Labor for Jackson Committee.

Maintenance of Oregon airports our system, but we can't assume any more financial ob-of land needed for expansion of Seaside airport was re-Duna reported that he had submitted a report to the state budget division proposing to postpone installation of various equipment, purchase of a tractor, mower, truck and postpone work on Independence airport to cut

$63,735 from the current budget for lack of funds. The Hughes Airwest strike taxes, Dunn pointed out.

costing the state about 3,000 a month in lost fuel

Revenue sources up

Other sources of revenue such as license fees for pilots and aircraft are increasing about 4 per cent per year,

Chairman Ed Bennett sug gested a re-evaluation of all state airports with a view to abandoning little-used air-

Dunn reported.

jected for the same reason.

A similar offer of a parcel suffering from shortage of funds ligations at this time.'

Rep. Edith Green will be reverse a longtime trend toward surrendering more and more of its decision-making power to the President, Sen. Bob Packwood said Friday. Addressing the Oregon chapter of the American Marketing Association at the Benson Hotel, Packwood

by last Congress

OMA drops Packwood laments

11 doctors loss of authority said the continuing erosion of congressional power to the executive was the most significant development of the year in Congress. He offered the luncheon comply with compulsory edaudience two examples, one Membership in OMA in no foreign, the other domestic. way affects a doctor's ability

Congress had the oppor-tunity to repeal a Middle East resolution adopted in 1957 which allows the President blank check authority to intervene militarily in that area, Packwood said.

society and, "as far a I know, no Oregon county has adopted this type of membership requirement." Congress left the resolu-tion on the books, he said, The main practical effect of the suspensions is that the because its members didn't want the authority themphysicians will be ineligible for OMA's insurance pro-gram. Private insurance is

He pointed out that he had offered an amendment to a bill extending the time limit (two years) for the Presi-

Congress in 1971 failed to dent's authority to impose wage and price controls. The Nixon administration backed the amendment which would have required the amplane firm regain sol-guidelines were imposed. But the Senate, quick to criticize the President for not imposing controls and later for the way he did it, turned down the amendment 44-30. The Oregon Republican said he feared the long term impact if Congress continues to surrender more and more of its decision-making pow-

At best the nation would have a benevolent despotism, at worst an anarchic dictatorship, Packwood ob-

Packwood predicted passenger rail service would shrink in future years except between major population centers less than 500 miles apart. He also felt the Lockheed loan guarantee approved by Congress last year would see congressional okay before

Father's efforts cited in tragic home fire in a fire early Thursday, unchildren, the Portland Fire Bureau said Friday as it continued its investigation into the cause of the city's worst single fire tragedy.

Fire officials said Robert Johnson, 41, broke out a rear some specialty societies require AMA membership.

OMA suspended the 11 for failure to report educational activity during 1970. Suspensione were in effort as of sions were in effect as of Dec. 31, 1971

JOMA has 2,400 members, nt of an estimated 3,000 doctors licensed to practice in Oregon. Kronenberg said this includes "95 per cent of the practicing M.D.s in the state"

Reinstatement possible

Doctors who were nearing retirement, were e x e m p t from the education requirements, OMA said, and of the 17 who left, "only one was anticipating retirement soon.

Doctors who wish to be reinstated must demonstrate, Kronenberg said, that they completed the education requirements in 1970. They can "make up" work with the approval of the OMA. board, however, or wait one year and apply as a new member in the association;

Of the 11 suspensions, "about half" carried OMA liability insurance. Kronenberg said.

OMA is the first state associations to enforce educational requirements. Such programs are in process in several other states, but Oregon was the first to actually suspend physicians for fail-ure to carry out and report an approved study program.

Padrow plans trip

Multnomah County Com-missioner Ben Padrow will leave Monday for a three-day, federally sponsored conference on management and personnel in Seattle.

the midst of evaluating all its airports for incorporation in an official state master plan, with the aid of federal

The new master plan, to be submitted to the federal Department of Transportation by June 30, was explained to the staff of the Port of Portland at a noon luncheon during which the state board asked for technical assist-

Duan said Oregon is one of the first 10 states to start active work on the master plan; which is one of the requirements for federal aid under the new federal law.

Board member Jack Lansing complained that funds are piling up in the federal treasury under the act because poor municipalities can't muster matching funds. The money will go to the "rich airports" unless the requirement for matching funds is reduced for smaller municipalities, he said.

ance from the Port.

seven children who perished successfully tried to save his window in their home at 4075 N. Borthwick Ave., and pulled two children from a downstairs bedroom. He then directed firemen to the Air pollution problems cited

EUGENE —Serious prob-lems of air pollution — not only field burning — exist in the Eugene-Springfield area and need more attention in the final draft of Oregon's Clean Air Act Implementation. At a public hearing here

Friday night Wickes Beal, speaking for the Lane Re-gional Air Pollution Authority, said the levels of pollution now being experienced in the Eugene-Springfield area may require regula-tions similar to the ones pro-posed for the city of Portland. "The situation here is critical and requires more than proposed in the initial plan draft," Mrs. Beal said. She said the Lane Pollution Authority would give Oregon's Department of Environmental Quality its full coop-eration and support in its efforts to bring the entire state into compliance with national air quality standards.

Friday's hearing, which drew more than 80 people and many witnesses, was held to air Oregon's plan to meet the federal standards. which will be submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency by Jan. 30. Under the Clean Air Act that agency has 120 days to review and approve or dis-prove the plan. Oregon's plan, environmental authorities said Friday, is nearly 900 pages long and proposes measures to bring Oregon air pollution near or below the national standards by 1975.

The proposals run from possible Portland-area checking of motor vehicle pollution-control devices to compliance schedules for firms contributing above-standard levels of pollutants.

Car crash kills woman

CLATSKANIE - A 30year-old Clatskanie woman, Linda V. Poe, was killed Friday night in an auto accident on St. Helens Highway near the intersections of 30th Avenue and Delaney Street in Clatskanie.

Also involved in the 6:21 p.m. accident but not seri-ously injured were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holmes, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hindman, all of Clatskanie.

Mrs. Poe was dead on arrival at St. Johns Hospital in Longview.

Details of the accident were not available, but Oregon State police said High-way 30 west of Scappoose was "practically a solid sheet of black ice" Friday night.

three upstairs bedrooms The Johnson victims in-cluded Maurice, 2½ months; Wanda Faye 7; Robert Earl, 6; Ruby Lee 5; and Teresa, 3. Another youth, Michael Bale, 8, also died: He was a son by a previous marriage of Mrs. Rosa Mae Johnson.

A two-year-old boy, Deron Turner, son of Shirley Turner, was also killed. The two were also living at the resi-

Both Johnsons and Shirley Turner were not at home when the blaze broke out in the first floor kitchen. The alarm was sounded at 12:41 a.m. Thursday...

Capt. Jeff Morris of the Portland Fire Bureau said Friday Mr. Johnson returned home as firemen arrived and "did a commendable job in trying to save the children and direct firemen."

Morris said Johnson, who was asleep shortly before midnight, received a telephone call to come to Emanuel Hospital where an unidentified friend had been injured. Johnson's wife was also at the hospital, officials said, when he received the Morris said Johnson brought Wanda Faye Johnson from an upstairs bedroom to the one downstairs and heated a milk bottle for the youngest son, Maurice. He gave the bottle to Maurice and left the residence, Morris added.

There were no immediate indications, firemen said, that the stove in the kitchen had been left turned on, but the fire had a good start and spread quickly to the walls and a stairway. The State Medical Exam-iner's office said all died of asphyxiation by inhalation of carbon monoxide. They were dead on arrival at three lo-

Fire investigators said they will continue their investigation and probably have nothing definite until Monday.

FBI arrests Vermont man

The Federal Bureau of Investigation reported Thursday the arrest of a Hartford, Vt., resident on charges of robbing the Mapleton branch of the Siuslaw Valley Bank of $29,976 last April 2.

Douglas Earl Savage, 28. was arrested by FBI agents on a warrant issued in Portland Jan. 4, based on a U.S. magistrate's complaint.

Federal authorities said Savage is the eighth suspect arrested in an investigation into a series of Willamette Valley bank robberies last year, one of which ended with the shooting of a Creswell policeman.

volved two masked men who held up bank employes and escaped with the money despite road blocks by Oregon State Police and Lane County Sheriff's deputies.
The FBI and U.S. Attor-

The Mapleton robbery in-ney's office in Portland said only Savage has been charged so far with the Mapleton roobery.

The FBI said its investigation is continuing. The bureau said Savage was arrested by agents from its Al-bany, N.Y., office, who indi-cated Savage has resided in Hartford for the past five years.

week to pick up the 190-foct bouy tender, Iris, which will replace one that was heavily damaged when it grounded